CAUGHT NAPPING

AND THE USE OF REED RULES

Of Proceedure Enabled the Five Republicans to put Their Selections Through - The Objectors say the End is not Yet and That Action Will Follow After Legal Cousel has Been had-Detalls of the Election.

Yesterday afternoon a regular auditing session of the Ohio county board of commissioners was held, at which routine business was transacted. First, under the head of "unfinished business," President McGregor called up the election of the county officers, upon which the board had been deadlocked for some time. This raised an immediate protest from the three members of the Democratic-Republican coalition, which opposes the revised Republican caucus selections, and before an election could be had it was necessary for President Mc-Gregor to exercise the functions of the chairmanship a la Reed, which he did with great effect.

When the roll was called all the members answered their names excepting Messrs. Gutman, Republican, and Mc-Culloch, Democrat, both of whom are In the coalition. The five Republicans who are supporting the revised caucus selections were all on hand. They are Messrs, McGregor, Hare, Bowman, McCurdy and Moore. The coalition members present were Messrs, Tyson and Fritz, Republicans, and Stahnke, Democrat. After the calling of the roll President

After the calling of the roll Fresquent McGregowat once called up the election of officers under the head of "unfinished business. He said the election would occur then unless postponed by a vote. Mr. Stahnke raised quite a kick over this proceeding, but the roll was called. This greated great confusion and this proceeding, but the roll was called. This created great confusion and Messrs. Fritz, Tyson and Stahnke fell over themselves trying to get out of the room. While they were hustling out Clerk Moffat was calling the roll on the first office, toll collector at the Twenty-ninth street gate, and when Fritz's name was called he was not yet outside the room, and President McGregor ruled that he was present. "not voting." This may a bare quorum, and as the five Republicans remaining all voted for the caucus nominee. Downs, and no votes were cast for Mrs. Driehorst, whom the coalitionists were supporting. Downs was declared to be legally elected.

The five Republicans then proceeded The five Republicans then proceeded

The five Republicans then proceeded to elect the other caucus nominees, and as nobody raised the point of no quorum President McCregor declared 2ff were regularly elected. They were as follows:

Superintendent second division national road, John Kirger. This was the office which caused the split originally, the five Republicans who brought about the second caucus nominations claiming John Krummic was not in reality nominated. At the second caucus, it will be remembered, they nominated Kiger.

Twice, while the voting was in pogress, the members who had made their exit came back to see how their brethren were retting along, but they did not stay long. Instead they assembled in the cerificer and excitedly discussed the situation. After a time Mr. Gutman appeared on the scene and entered the cloim that he had not received the postaticard notification of the meeting that is usual. Clerk Mosfrat said that he had sent the postal card notifications last Saturday and that among them was one for Mr. Gutman.

The coalition members discussed the afternoon's occurrence at some length, and it is asserted that they do not intend to let the election stand if any effort on their part can knock it out. They were not ready to divulge their plans yesterday afternoon, but asserted that something would drop in a few hours. They consulted legal authorities yesterday afternoon, but asserted that something would drop in a few hours. They consulted legal authorities yesterday afternoon, which we have a cating with him say their action yesterday is supported by precedents established by no less an authority than Speaker-Reed, of the national house of representatives.

TWENTY-FIVE FEET

Of Water will be in Evidence Here To-day-The River was Still Rising at Pittsburgh Last Night.

The river here at 2 o'clock this morning was at the twenty-foot mark and still rising. Last night's reports from Steubenville and Pittsburgh showed a rising river at both points, and the Allegheny and Monongohela were also rising, though the end was near on the Monongahela at least, for that river was falling at Greensboro.

Here at least twenty-five feet is expected on the rise and it may reach thirty feet.

Thirty feet will not hurt anybody, but two or three feet higher would reach some of the cellars on the river front and on Main street.

The Ohio river is rising at all points, and the lower river streams seem to be on a rampage. The high winds which prevailed last night also interfered with the movements of the boats. The tow-boats experienced the most difficulty, but the packets did not seem to have any trouble, and they are running as usual to-day. It is thought that by to-morrow morning the Monongabela river will have receded sufficiently to enable the packets and the pool boats to resume their trips. No coal could be dropped out of the pools to-day on account of the high water, but none of the mills seemed to suffer by reason of a shortage of coal.

THE TENEBRAE

Its Three Nights Observance Begun at Cathedral.

IT IS TYPICAL OF THE SCENES

Attending Christ's D cath on Calvary Very Impressive Ceremonies, Including the Chanting of Psalms and Lamentations, in a Darkened Church-The Scottish Rite Masons Maundy Thursday Banquet.

The Tenebrae was sung at the Cathedral last evening, in the presence of a large congregation. This impressive service is observed by Catholics on the Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of Holy week, hence this and tomorrow evening will witness a repetition. It is a solemn and interesting ceremony.

Tenebrae means darkness, literally and the ceremony refers to the darkness that fell on the earth when Christ was crucified. The service is composed of fifteen of David's psalms and lamentacrucified. The service is composed of sifteen of David's psalms and lamentations of Jeremiah, and the doleful chanting in a minor key adds to the impressiveness of the effort to call to mind Christ's suffering and His abandonment by the disciples.

At the end of each psalm one of the many candles in use is extinguished, and so on until all are out excepting one candle, supposed to typify the Savior. When the psalms are concluded the other lights in the church are extinguished, the sole light in the church coming from the one candle, which is then carried behind the altar and hidden, a ceremony typical of Christ's burial. The Miserre is recited next, following which a commotion is made in the darkened church, to represent the confusion of the elements that occurred at the Crucifixion. Then the lighted candle is brought from its seclusion into the church again, and all the other lights are turned on, the illumination symbolizing the Resurrection.

At last night's ceremony, Vicar General O'Connor presided. The other celebrants were Fathers McBride, Moye and Altmeyer, of the Cathedral parish. A choir of young men did the chanting. A better rendition is looked for this evening, as well as a larger attendance of out-of-town clergy. Rev. Father Walsh, of Santa Clara, Doddridge county, will preach on "The Eucharist."

NEW ACADEMY BUILDING. Bids are Being Submitted by Many Local Contractors.

Local contractors are submitting bids for the eraction of the new St. Joseph's academy building, to be built on the site of the present structure, at the corner of Eoff and Fourteenth streets. This will be one of the handsomest school buildings in Wheeling and is to cost not less than $25,099. The architect is S. F. Heckert, of Pittsburgh. The bids close Monday at noon. The old academy will be torn down as son as the contracts for its successor are awarded. The convent proper will remain standing, as it is in good condition and answers all purposes, but the academy end of the mammoth pile of brick has ostilved its usefulness. Its orick has obtaved its describess. Its foundations were never any too good and they were weakened a few years ago when excavations were made in putting in steam heating apparatus. CABINET MEETING.

Many Important Topics Discussed. The Civil Service Question—Order May be Issued in a Few Days. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29 .- At the cabinet meeting to-day, which lasted until 1 o'clock, a variety of subjects were discussed, including a number of questions which have arisen during the two weeks of the President's absence in the south. The administration of affairs in Cuba came up and it was practically decided to simplify matters by consolidating some of the administrative departments, but just what changes will be made is as yet undetermined. The question of amending the civil service rules and regulations in certain minor particulars was under consideration and the President stated that he tion and the President stated that he desired to dispose of the matter at an early day. Almost the last thing the President did before leaving for the south was to return to the members of the cabinet their several recommendations on the subject with a request that they again go over them with a view to making any changes which wight surely the several recommendations on the subject with a request that the cablact their several recommendations on the subject with a request that they again go over them with a view to making any changes which might suggest themselves during his absence. To-day the President asked that he be furnished with the conclusions in the matter as soon as possible, and it is expected that it is his purpose to issue his order within a few days. It was again demonstrated at to-day's meeting of the cabinet that while strongly upholding the principles of the civil service law there is a disposition on the part of several members to criticise its present administration.

The subject of the appointment of commissioners to represent the United States at the forthcoming convention, called by the czar of Russia with a view to promoting peace among nations, was advanced by the President, It is understood that three ambassadors of the United States at European courts will be named, together with two or three citizens of the United States not in the displomatic service. The personnel of the commission has not yet been definitely decided. The new Nicaragua canal commission, which was provided for in the last rivers and harbor bill also was discussed and it is not unlikely that the members will be named very soon. The question of raising an additional force of volunteers to go to the Phillippines was not mentioned at the meeting, and it is not thought that the meeting, and it is not thought that the President has any such purpose in view at this time. Postmaster General Emory Smith, who has just returned from Cuba, told of his observations there and it was upon his suggestion that several of the Cuban administrative departments will be consolidated.

The arrival here of delegates from the Cuban assembly was touched upon and the discussion brought out a reiteration of the conclusion to pay no attention to their de-mands. It is felt that assembly dele-gates represent a disturbing element and that under no circumstances would they be formally received by this government.
